DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's amendment filed on April 30, 2008 has been entered. Claims 1, 11, and 21 have been amended. Claims 2 and 5-7 have been cancelled. No claims have been added. Claims 1, 3, 4, and 8-30 are still pending in this application, with claims 1, 11, and 21 being independent.
2. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 04/30/2008 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 21-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is not supported by either a specific and substantial asserted utility or a well established utility.
4. The original disclosure does not provide clear support of what “article” or “medium” has been positively disclosed as. The original disclosure does not provide any adequate and enabling disclosure pertaining to an “article” and a “medium”.
5. Claims 21-30 are also rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph. Specifically, since the claimed invention is not supported by either a specific and substantial asserted utility or a well established utility for the reasons set forth above, one skilled in the art clearly would not know how to use the claimed invention.
6. Furthermore, the language of claim 21 is not acceptable language in computer-processing related claims. Claim 21 currently recite “An article comprising a medium storing instructions that enable a processor-based system to:...” Claim 21 should recite, for example, “A computer readable medium encoded with instructions capable of being executed by a computer to:...”

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 1, 3, 4, and 8-20 are allowed.
8. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The invention as claimed is not disclosed nor rendered obvious in view of the prior art of record. As to independent claims 1 and 11, the prior art fails to teach or suggest, alone or in combination, the recited cellular telephone and method comprising a device to detect an attempt to make an emergency call and to selectively bypass the first processor if the first processor fails to respond within a time period after the attempt, by diverting signals from the first processor to the second processor. No prior art was found that discloses or teaches the limitations of claims 1 and 11.
9. Claims 3, 4, 8-10, and 12-20 are dependent upon claims 1 and 11, respectively, therefore, claims 3, 4, 8-10, and 12-20 are allowed.

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kroll et al. (US Patent Application, Pub. No.: US 2003/0003950 A1) teach a self defense cellular telephone. Carpenter (US Patent Application, Pub No.: US 2002/0154752 A1) teach a telephone call filtering method. Mulrow et al. (US 5,454,025) teach a switch bypass for a public safety calling system.
